

Latin Root: miss/mit

In this worksheet, we examine the root miss/mit, which means send in Latin. The prefixes used in these words generally, but not always, have specific meanings and will be practised in the Affixation section. Put each of the following words into the correct sentences in the correct form.

admit, commit, emission, intermittent, permission, promise, remission, remittance, submit, transmission

1. We only want people to work for us if they can _____ themselves to working for the duration of the project.
2. Anyone interested in the position of finance manager should _____ their application by the end of Friday 23rd May at the latest.
3. Since Robin started studying here at the school, he has shown a lot of _____. I don't want to see him waste it.
4. The new environments law will cut smoke _____ from car exhausts and factories by 30% over the next two years and improve air quality.
5. The management of this night club have the right not to _____ anyone heavily under the influence of alcohol
6. Three months after Dolores started the treatment, the doctors tested her and found that the cancer was in _____. The treatment had worked.
7. We were watching an exciting film on television when the _____ was suddenly cut. We never found out what happened in the end.
8. Scientists have picked up a signal which they say is from a star in the Orion system. The signal is weak and _____ but each time it comes they can pick up more data.
9. You have to have the _____ of your parents if you want to come with us on the excursion.
10. Every Friday the bank is full of workers sending _____ back to their families in their own countries.